A Message of HOPE

from Shawn McConaughey

Thursday evening WYM Keynote 2022 ~ 2 Corinthians 5:16-21

The 2022 Yearly Meeting sessions began on Thursday evening, July 20, 2022 with a message from our new General Superintendent Shawn McConaughey. The following are excerpts from his message. The entire message is available on our Website: www.westernyearlymeeting.org

Why did you want to come to WYM?

- ⇒ We felt called by God.
- ⇒ Our experience of WYM was limited but from the one time we visited in 2019 and the interactions we had with WYM folks, we felt drawn.
- ⇒ The breadth of Quaker belief. Some of you feel that is a black eye but I think has value, but it does come with some struggle.
- ⇒ A YM that for the most part wants to embrace it's Quaker identity.
- ⇒ Like many Quaker efforts, WYM continues to make an impact globally in spite of it's size.
- ⇒ Rich history. I have enjoyed reading and re-reading the 150 year history.
- ⇒ A YM that seems to want to move forward. I am sure that is different for various people and I have found that it is difficult for some of you to explain your hopes for the YM. A number of you are dissatisfied with where we are as a YM.

How do you plan to fix our shrinking numbers?

- I have no idea. Next Question?
- ⇒ Actually, I will not/cannot fix anything.

So what good are you?

What ARE you going to do?

- ⇒ Well, I am committed to walk alongside each of our meetings. I will help meetings that want to talk about the future and how to approach your particular community, your hopes, your grief, and your joy.
- ⇒ I'll help you think creatively and look towards the future for how that looks.
- ⇒ I'll try to help create opportunities for growth for Friends in WYM.
- ⇒ I'll encourage/nudge you to keep moving forward
- ⇒ I'll work to care for pastors and leaders and encourage local meetings to do that well.

- ⇒ Of course, there is administrative work that happens in the office.
- ⇒ I'll try to improve communication. I can't make you read your emails, texts, or Western Updates, but we will try to open more consistent and helpful communication both between the office and local meetings and hopefully between each other.
- ⇒ I find Friends in WYM may not know each other very well. I'd like to see that improve. And see if we can't find emotional space for new folks to come along and be a part of things

- ⇒ I will continue to encourage us towards being faithful
- ⇒ I will try to help build opportunities for solid Quaker leadership.

Our shrinking local meetings.

First not all of our meetings are shrinking. Some are finding new growth out of COVID.

- ⇒ Its important for us to emphasize Health over Size. Sometimes there is a correlation but it is pretty easy to get hung up on how many folks are sitting in the pews and giving to the cause.

“It is hard to exaggerate the degree to which the modern Church seems irrelevant to modern man. The church is looked on as something to be neither seriously fought nor seriously defended....” (17).

Do you know who wrote this quote?

It was D. Elton Trueblood..... IN 1961!

I think our perspective, our paradigm has to shift if we are going to honor God's call to us. I assume that there are some of you who do not want to make those shifts (you are tired, its threatening, you are skeptical). And to some degree there is nothing new under the sun. But we have never been in this place in history, while concepts may not be new, the praxis must be, as modern America is different in many ways than it was.

Read the remaining article on the WYM Website: www.westernyearlymeeting.org

It's an "aha moment"

- An epiphany
- An attitude shift
- A mind shift
- A wake-up call
- An eye-opening experience

Highlights from Yearly Meeting Sessions!

The following are some responses from Yearly Meeting participants.

From Mark Tope: The Western Yearly Meeting sessions this year were the most uplifting and positive yearly meeting sessions I've been involved in for years. With the advent of a new superintendent, there was an atmosphere of hope and anticipation. The devotions with Paul Anderson were the best I've experienced and his message was on the prayer of Paul to the Ephesians and how God is big enough to fill the entire universe, but also big enough to fill our hearts and minds with His presence. The business sessions were also positive and the reports reflected a yearly meeting that has caught a vision and are determined to work together to achieve that goal. The meals provided by Quaker men were good and provided fellowship among F(f)riends. From Shawn's opening address to Paul's closing message...it was certainly an indication that we are ready to roll up our sleeves and make a difference in the lives of all the meetings of Western Yearly Meeting as well as the people who attend.

More feedback from the WYM Sessions Feedback Form....

- ◆ Shawn has an inspiring vision for the future of WYM!
- ◆ Karla, Raina and Susie are excellent presenters and represented FUM well.
- ◆ Being able to meet in person again.
- ◆ "I want to commend the Program Committee on their choice of speakers. Paul and Cherice were excellent."
- ◆ .....a new era, full of promise.
- ◆ It was good to have Dale Dorrell return to his "home" yearly meeting, and to learn what prompted his preparation of this dramatization.
- ◆ Thanks for allowing to attend virtually, as it allowed several to participate that otherwise could not.
- ◆ God's Spirit being present in so many Friends.
- ◆ Easy to do online and registration table is always very well organized.
- ◆ There were many observations about the need for the technology to work better.
- ◆ Appreciated the message about unity and diversity.
- ◆ There was not enough time for people to share during the Memorial Hour.
- ◆ Unprogrammed worship at Sugar Grove, FUM presentation and Family Night were highlights!
- ◆ The opportunity to meet people face to face! Renews friendships, acquaintances and meeting new people.

67 people participated in the QHC Picnic on Saturday evening.

THANK YOU

to the Quaker Haven staff for the wonderful food!

MIDWEST REGIONS OF USFW

The Midwest Region of USFW raised $1,120 during the Missions Program at our Summer Gathering, which took place July 23rd during the annual sessions of Western Yearly Meeting. This money has been sent to Friends United Meeting. Karla Jay reported that the money will be added to FUM's Global Impact Fund, from which they draw to assist with various challenges that arise among Friends. Thank you, f/Friends, for your generosity!

IS YOUR MEETING TAKING ADVANTAGE OF C M & E GRANTS?

The WYM Christian Ministries and Evangelism Board, Sub-committee on Meeting Development and Nurture has grants available for Monthly Meetings and Individual Members in Western Yearly Meeting. Monthly Meeting grants are annual grants and can be applied for once each year. The maximum for Monthly Meeting grants is $3,000. Individual member grants can be applied for once each year with a maximum amount of $500. Our goal is to encourage the spiritual growth of both Meetings and individuals; but, many times the needs of Meetings to maintain their facilities comes to the forefront. Grant applications can be found on the Western Yearly Meeting website by following this link:

<https://www.westernyearlymeeting.org/resources>

There is information for both Monthly Meeting grants and Individual Member grants on this webpage.

There are no specific dates or deadlines for submitting grant applications. If grant applications are received near the time of regularly scheduled board meetings in March and November, they will be reviewed by the board then. If applications are received at other times, applications will be circulated to the board members for review by email. It takes about 6 weeks after submission for a grant application to be reviewed and if approved, for the funds to be transferred.

The board has about $11,500 remaining for grant applications in 2022. The grant cycle is an annual cycle which corresponds to the allocation of Board funds by the Financial Trustees which takes place in January.

Clerk of M D & N, sub committee of C M & E

*Sundesmos: 2023 Internship Project Search

*Sundesmos: a NT Greek word that describes "a bond, a binding together".

- Does your Meeting have a desire to be a part of WYM leadership development for young adults?
- Does your Meeting have ministry projects it wants to see started or fostered?
- Do you have a need, but do not know where to start?
- Are there ways your meeting dreams to support the community, if only you had the time, energy, and/or know-how?
- Do you have any young adults (19-30yrs) in your meeting who might benefit from a WYM internship experience?

Since the early 2000's WYM has been working to foster young adult leaders through the Sundesmos Internship program. The program includes mentoring, hands on ministry experience and a small salary.

WYM is calling all Monthly Meetings to consider ways they might host a young adult internship next year. Internship possibilities include starting and/or supporting the following ministry examples:

- Vacation Bible School
- Youth group
- MOPS (Mothers of Preschoolers) group
- Pastoral experience

The above list is just a starting point for your meeting's consideration and discernment. Depending on the nature of the project proposal, projects outside the summer months will also receive full consideration. Ideal projects would grow or support your local Meeting and community while developing young adults into Quaker leaders. All proposals will be considered. WYM will help local meetings craft their projects.

Please contact WYM Associate Supt. Chris Harris at:
chris@westernyearlymeeting.org
by phone at 317-498-9058.

Please reach out to him if you have even the slightest interest in being a part of the development of our young adults. OR if you have young adults who might be interested.

Please leave a message or send a text if Chris doesn't answer.

DISC GOLF AND BLOCK PARTY

By Sarabeth Marcinko, Bloomingdale Friends

At our April 2021 Bloomingdale Monthly Meeting, Pastor Scott Miller suggested that putting up a disc golf course in the church grove might be a way to be more visible in our town and community and also give community youth, as well as adults and families, something to do. Our response was hesitant as we knew nothing about costs or how to construct a course. I did what a good librarian does and went home and did some research. I was able to contact a professional disc golf course designer from Fishers who came the next week to look at our property. He sent us a proposal for designing a 9 hole course and an estimate of needed materials and costs. We also got an estimate for some drainage work from a local contractor, and the monthly meeting approved moving forward with this project.

The cost estimates allowed us to apply for some local grants. The Rotary group gave us a small grant which we used to pay design fees. The Parke County Community Foundation also provided some grant money to help with the costs of materials. Another partner was the town board, as we went to a meeting and talked to them about our plans. We are located in the middle of town next to the town playground and across the street from the ballpark.

The summer of 2021 was mainly spent in getting the project planned, gathering support and spreading word about it in our community, and preparing the property for installing the equipment. We had several work days where we cut limbs and trees and picked up and burned limbs and leaves to prepare the area for the course. In the fall, the designer laid out the course, and some of our members were able to install the pole sleeves in the ground for the targets/baskets. They had to dig holes and mix concrete in order to set the sleeves.

At first we had optimistically thought we could get the course done in 3 months or so, but the planning and preparations took longer than we had anticipated. This turned out to be fortunate, I think, as we learned in the spring of 2022 about a grant opportunity through the United Way of the Wabash Valley. They were giving grants to nonprofit groups called "Strengthening Neighborhoods," and we were ready with our plan and estimates of costs.

Our partnerships with the town, local business, the 4-H Club, etc. and our plans for a project that could benefit the health and atmosphere of our entire community led to our getting the largest grant possible.

During late spring and summer of 2022, members did some more cleanup of our grounds, installed hog slats for tee pads, and painted and put up posts for signs. In June we were able to put up two baskets in the practice area and use them during VBS to give the youth a preview of what was coming. We were also able to finish our project with the 4-H club of collecting plastic lids for benches and a trash receptacle for the course. We also got a bench that the 4-H club could decide where to place in the town. They had it put by the town playground so people could sit and watch their children play. A local business donated a plaque for the 4-H bench. The Rotary gave us another small grant which helped with the costs for these benches.

We were already planning a Community Block Party for August, so we decided we could go ahead and put up the baskets and have our course “grand opening,” even though we don’t have the permanent signage and some drainage work completed yet. For the Block Party, we cooperated with the other church in town and the town board. We also got a small grant from the community foundation.

We rented inflatables from the youth group at the church where our former pastor, Scott Miller, is now. (They came and set them up and ran them.) We asked some local groups to provide music. We had hot dogs and hamburgers, chips, drinks and Kona Ice. Corn hole, badminton, face painting, crafts and, of course, disc golf were among the other activities. The Indiana Festivals truck came and provided music and bubbles. The rain missed us, and we had a great crowd. We may try to have another party in 2-3 years.

Since the Block Party, we have had several people playing on the disc golf course. We are thrilled with the responses we have had, especially from those who were already playing at other courses in nearby counties. They have told us it is well-designed with quality equipment and the tee pads are great to have as some courses lack them. I think someone has already put our course in an app that is like a virtual score card. A local person in the community has said her son is now “addicted” and has ordered his own set of discs. We are looking forward to fully completing this project, and pray it will be a very positive part of our community outreach.

There is an old saying that says “What happens at _____ stays at _____.” In this case replace the blanks with “quilt camp”. Well...., not everything stays there. Some things do escape!

52 ladies and 1 young man packed up their bedding, clothes, and of course our sewing gear and headed for Quaker Haven Camp where we enjoyed delicious Quaker Haven cooking and hospitality as usual.

Although the camp did not start until Friday evening many came a day earlier just to get a little more done. Some went shopping at the nearby quilting stores on Thursday and Friday. I even heard of a few who were seen at a garage sale in Shippshewana!

The official camp started on Friday evening with a gift exchange. Then... it was sewing until you decided to go to bed for the evening.

Saturday involved a lot of sewing and laughing as well as a “Drag and Brag” time (a time to show what you had made since our last camp in April). We also traded 5” blocks of fabric that had fruit on it. We’ll see what everyone makes from those squares.

Sunday was more sewing and, if you like, attending worship with Quaker Haven Meeting.

We had several visits from the Mennonite and Amish who were also camping on the grounds.

As you can see in some of the pictures, a fun time was had by all.

ABOUNDING IN HOPE

The USFWI theme for this year, “Abounding in Hope,” is based on Romans 15:13: “Now may the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in him, so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit.”

Women who attended the fall retreat at Quaker Haven Sept 12 & 13 took a deep dive into the meaning of hope and what it means to abound in it. The ladies defined hope as a “vision of something you desire that comes with the holy energy you need to help make it happen.” They wrote down what they hoped for as related to themselves, their families, their world and what they hoped would happen after their earthly life was over.

Recognizing that hope is a gift from God when we are discouraged, we studied writings about women whose hope had pulled them through traumatic experiences such as cancer, rape, and the death of a child. We looked at hopes held by people whose circumstances are very different from our own. My husband, Dan Beane, has kept in touch with refugees he met in United Nations-sponsored camps in Kenya and Zimbabwe. He shared pictures and stories of people who have spent most, if not all, their lives in refugee camps with hopes of being adopted by a new country.

As followers of Christ, we are called to help build his new creation by offering hope to others. We took a glance at N.T. Wright’s book, Surprised By Hope, in which he writes, “Salvation does what it’s meant to do when those who are saved realize they are saved not for themselves alone but for what God longs to do, not merely in us and for us, but through us.” Let us allow God’s gift of hope fill us so that our whole life and outlook is radiant with hope.

Sylvia Graves Beane

FROM SARAH LOOKABILL

I recently attended the Midwest Region USFWI retreat held at Quaker Haven Camp. While it is always great to have a reason to drive up to the camp, the retreat itself is also a time of renewal and inspiration with other USFWI women, seeing old friends and making new ones. This year, Sylvia Graves Beane, led the sessions based on the 2022-2023 USFWI theme of “Abounding in Hope” based on Romans 15:13. Through small and large group discussions, we explored several different ways to find hope which included scripture, hymns, personal stories, and writings by several authors. Hope can be anticipation, belief, confidence, desire, expectation, faith, optimism and promise. Sometimes we may find it easy to have hope and sometimes we may have to work a little harder to find it. The struggle may be real but hope is always there somewhere if we continue to put our trust in God.

FROM SHAREN RITCHIE

As Sylvia walked in, you could feel the Presence and the Peace of God fill the room. She expertly guided us through a time of getting to know one another in which our hearts became knit together. This allowed us to freely discuss HOPE, what it is, what ours are, and how to walk in light of what we learned, both personally and communally.

We sang, we laughed, we cried. And through it all, God was glorified. This was by far the most fulfilling retreat I’ve been on.

Thank you Lord, and thank you Sylvia!
